

NEWS ABOUT PEOPLE ON MACKINAC ISLAND

home in Mackinac City with his mother, Kay.

Fred and Dr. Carol Entwistle of Afton, Minnesota, are enjoying a Mackinac vacation at their Victorian condominium. Carol is the daughter of the late Vern and Meryl Eriksson.

Congratulations to Seth Tamlyn, who was graduated Friday, May 25, from LaSalle High School in St. Ignace. Seth is the son of Joanna Kompsi Tamlyn and the grandson of Sue Chambers and Joe Kompsi, all of Mackinac.

Welcome back to Charlie and Mary Thompson. They're comfortably settled in their home, Lilac House, on Market Street.

The annual Manoogian Art Show will be held at Grand Hotel Sunday, June 3.

The Reverend Ron and Kay Smith of Austin, Texas, are enjoying a visit to their East Bluff cottage. Rev. Ron was the celebrant at services at Trinity Church Sunday, May 27.

We're happy and pleased to have Trish Cameron back at McNally Cottage for the summer. Trish lives in Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania.

Grand Hotel and Mackinac give a cordial welcome to the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce Conference Wednesday, May 30. We wish everyone a successful convention.

Best wishes to Otto Wandrie, father of Paul, who has not been feeling his best. He is with family members in the Detroit area.

Glen and Deanna St. Onge spent part of the Memorial Day weekend visiting their son, Jason, on the Island.

Alice Myron and family, cottagers of the East Bluff, enjoyed the Memorial Day holiday on their favorite Island.

The Cable Cottage on Lakeshore Drive is open for the summer. Jane Winston, niece of the late Mary Cable, is happy to be back among her many friends. It's wonderful to see another light in the neighborhood.

Congratulations to Sydney Kleinhenz of Harbor Springs, who will be graduated from Harbor Light Christian School

Jamie Andress of Mackinac Island signals he is doing fine as he takes a minute to adjust to being high in the air before enjoying a birdseye view of the Straits of Mackinac from the south tower of the Mackinac Bridge Thursday, May 24. Mr. Andress assisted the "Dirty Jobs" TV crew and Mike Rowe during their filming of Mr. Rowe painting the bridge and changing lights on the cables. "I sat in the manhole for a while," said Mr. Andress. "I finally broke my fear when I had to hurry to grab the boom microphone" for a scene. (Photograph courtesy of Mackinac Island Tourism Bureau)

Sunday, June 3. Sydney is the daughter of Brooke and Hoagie Kleinhenz, and the granddaughter of Robert and Annette Gillespie of Mackinac. She will be attending Calvin College in the fall.

Mary K. McIntire of Petoskey was the guest of her mother, Margaret, this past week.

Olivia Chambers, 10-year-old daughter of Mark and Jody, is a patient at Munson Medical Center in Traverse City.

The Carriage House Dining Room opened for the season Friday, May 25.

It was a pleasure attending the 50th wedding anniversary celebration of our friends, Pat and Louie Leveille of St. Ignace, Saturday, May 26, at the Village Inn in St. Ignace. Friends enjoyed greeting everyone on this special occasion. It was indeed a pleasure to visit with my good friend of many years, Gloria Davenport, who now makes her home in Gaylord. Her son, Jeff, is dockmaster of the St. Ignace Marina. Kevin Leveille, son of Pat and Louie, is head of maintenance at the Windermere Hotel. Best wishes to Pat and Louie for many years of good health and happiness.

Leanne Brodeur and Louie Bunker and family joined the Steve Rilenge family in Indianapolis, Indiana, for the Indy 500.

Helen and Richard Wolfgang have their delightful art studio open on Market Street. Mr. Wolfgang, a professional artist, has designed the annual lilac poster for the festival for many years.

Happy second wedding anniversary to Larry and Kathleen Rickley May 28. Have a wonderful day.

We received an e-mail from Sara Bunker Sutherland, who was thinking about Mackinac and her family and friends. She hopes to visit the Island this summer. Nice to hear from you, Sara.

We send warmest greetings to all Island residents who are patients at Mackinac Straits Hospital's long term care facility in St. Ignace. The doctors, nurses, and staff there are dedicated to the sick and the elderly.

Six-month-old Noah Henry Bosma made his first visit to the Island from Holland, Michigan. He was accompanied by his parents, Scott and Sarah Bosma, and grandparents Wallace and Dianne Mugg, longtime guests of the Windermere Hotel.

Alicia Leveniu, granddaughter of Ann Custer, will be babysitting for Brooke Dziobak this summer.

Piper Ryan returned to the Island with her friend, Steven Felmer, from school in Daytona Beach, Florida. She will be helping her mother and grandmother manage Pine Cottage, Chateau Lorraine, and Three Brothers Sarducci for the summer.

Congratulations to Mary and Joe Rogers of St. Ignace, who were confirmed and made their First Communion at St. Ignatius Loyola Catholic Church Sunday, May 20. Mary and Joe are the children of Brita and the late Robert Rogers. Proud grandparents are Mary and Calvin Rogers of St. Ignace and Mackinac.

The Brad Conkey family of Sylvan Lake spent Memorial Day weekend on Mackinac.

A successful pancake breakfast was held Sunday, May 27, at Ste. Anne's Hall. Nikki Gugin organized the event, with the help of many volunteers. The next pancake breakfast will be Sunday, June 24, from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Pat and Vivian McTeague

enjoyed their lovely condominium at the Mission over the weekend.

Dr. Mike and Jane Bacon, together with Diane and Ken Neyer, planted gardens and prepared for the opening of the former La Chance Cottage Wednesday, May 30.

Saturday morning, May 26, at historic Ste. Anne's Church, Father Jim Williams officiated at the baptism of little Penelope Graham, daughter of Alex and Kristi. Proud godparents are Andrew Doud and Carrie Lewand. Congratulations from Island friends.
